MAJOR HEADLINE

Leading manufacturer of thermal circuit protection signs distribution partnership with Beyond Components

March 11, 2011 (Lombard, IL) - Mechanical Products, a leader in supplying cost effective thermal circuit protection products since 1943, is pleased to announce the expansion of Industrial Distribution within the U.S. with the addition of Beyond Components as a new authorized distributor. The announcement was made today by Mechanical Products GM / VP Sales, Ronald Prokup.

With the addition of a new national distributor, Mechanical Products is able to more effectively supply superior cost effective thermal circuit protection products and solutions to its growing industrial base of customers. Larry Bajorek, MP's Senior VP said, "The expansion of our Industrial Distribution is part of a broader strategic plan to expand our offering to a growing base of industrial customers throughout North America. We are very excited to sign a new partnership with a well known, national and customer focused organization like Beyond Components."

Lou Dinkel, Beyond's President & CEO said, "MP's products are well known in the industry and they offer superior proven products in a cost effective package. In cooperation with MP, Beyond is excited to support the growth objectives as it expands its presence and customer base within the industrial marketplace."
